Dear User,

Please refer to The Standard Recode Manual

Quote:

This document contains two parts. The first part is a general discussion of the recode file, including the rationale for recoding; description of the physical structure in which the recode file is available; coding standards used in the data file; location of identification information; use of century month codes for dates and imputation of partial dates; DHS model questionnaires; sections and occurrences. The second part provides a description of each variable in the data file, giving additional information that is not available in the dictionary.

The Standard Recode Manual can be found on our website http://www.dhsprogram.com/pubs/pdf/DHSG4/Recode6_DHS_22March2013_DH SG4.pdf (Maternity section page 55).

There are up to six parts for each of these variables as a woman may have had more than one birth in the five years before the survey for which data are collected.

Thank you!
