

---

Subject: Re: Child gender in DHS Ethiopia 2011
Posted by M.W. on Tue, 28 Mar 2017 20:28:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Liz,

To be specific about my query, I am working on a study to compare the malnutrition status for boys and girls and I found that girls' nutrition status is better than boys, that puzzled me, as in most developing countries, boys are usually better treated.

Just want to confirm that the label for b4 is correct, I think you have answered my question and now I need to find other explanation about my results.

Thank you very much.

M.W.

---