Due to the confidentiality requirements of the data, administrative classifications below the DHS regions level are not able to be included in the recode files. If your analysis will be conducted at a level that does not align with DHS regions, you may use the GPS data within a Geographic Information System (GIS) to join the displaced cluster locations to other data sources. Visit the Available Datasets page: <https://dhsprogram.com/data/available-datasets.cfm> to view whether GPS data is available for your survey(s) of interest.
