Funny you should ask... no. Every editor seems to think it is right, but that some other field/journal should publish it (some of them have even had it cited in their journals!). That said, I'll email it to you, along with a follow-up paper that extends the thinking to multiple-countries and/or heterogeneous impacts across age.

This is a general offer, so feel free (whoever) to PM me and I'll send it your way.
