I am fully in support of the proposed additions to the DHS. There are several recent prominent publications demonstrating the impact of quality of care on mortality in low and middle income countries and the ASOS study published today further emphasizes the importance of understanding more about facility-based mortality for maternal health and cesarean section. As rates continue to rise in low and middle income countries having a standardized and comprehensive way to assess cesarean related mortality and contextual findings is paramount. The DHS presents the best way to provide this platform. This proposal is forward thinking and absolutely should be included in DHS 8
