Dear User, a response from Technical Expert, Trevor Croft:

The variables are not available, but discontinuation rates are reported in the 2011 report.

No contraceptive discontinuation was collected in 2000, and in fact the calendar was not used in this survey.

For the 2011 survey, the calendar is included, and V359 could be constructed from the calendar data. I'm not sure why it wasn't. However, the reason for discontinuation was not collected in the calendar in the 2000 survey, so V360 cannot be constructed. You can refer to the Contraceptive Calendar Tutorial to see how to work with the calendar data. Example 3 can give ideas on how to approach it. Here is a link to the Calendar Tutorial on our website.

Cheers. Trevor
