Following is a response from our Senior Sampling Specialist, Ruilin Ren:

The total number of women interviewed in a DHS is given in many places in the final report, for ex, in chapter 1, table: "Results of household and individual interviews", and in the table: "Background characteristics of respondents" in the individual chapter.

You can also get the total number of women interviewed by taking all cases where V015=1. You should use the number of women interviewed, not the number of eligible women.
