Thank you Tom and Bridgette. This is very useful.

Unfortunately, the provided code does not work because there are multiple possible variables for hvidx, hv104 etc. When I tried to add the _*, the code does not run and I continue to receive "ambiguous abbreviation" error messages from Stata.

In addition, to add to my colleagues previous note, we are not only trying to determine whether the individual who answered the household survey was a woman, but also whether she was the woman who was selected for the domestic violence module. Do you have any insight into either of these issues?

Thank you very much for your assistance.

Best,
Stephanie
