Hi dear experts, I am very grateful for your answer to my preoccupation, I was able to merge the fathers with the children in the same household. But however, another question remains, how to do to also have the mothers and their children in the household, but all in one base so that I can make single parent analysis (mother or father) and two parent (mother and father). the idea being to have in the same base the information of the mother and the father. Thanks in advance.
