Just to clarify, so if I would like to use DV variables, although there are other variables other than DV - for example v106 or v 155, I need to use d005, correct?

For descriptive statistics including DV variables, could I also use d005 for weights if DV variables are part of the table?

(In sum, only when variables starting with v are used, I could use v005 for weight, and if DV variables are used along with other variables (starting with v), I need to use d005. Is that right?)

Thank you so much!
