Query 1:

In order to separate between lower and upper secondary levels (ISCED levels 2 and 3), two variables are needed from the DHS data:

- Highest educational level attained (HV106)
- Highest year of education completed (HV107)

For 52 cases, the highest educational level attained is known ('secondary') however, the highest year of education completed is unknown ('don't know'). How would these cases be addressed?

Query 2:

We know disability questions are asked for household members 5+ years. Age is however unknown for 63 cases in total. How come the disability questions were addressed to these participants?

On the other hand, the question on marital status (HV115), which asked household members 10+ years, was not addressed in these 63 cases where age is unknown.
