Following is a response from Senior DHS staff member, Tom Pullum:

Virtually all DHS final reports, including those on the Jordan surveys, include a map. If you compare the maps from the successive surveys you will see that you are correct about the coding. In the list of 12 regions (governorates), the first digit identifies the larger region in the list of 3 regions. In fact, here is a table you can construct with the 2012 data (JOIR6CFL.dta):

If you repeat as "tab sgovern v101, nolabel", you will get the numerical codes.
