Hello everyone.

I have a 2018 database on children's nutritional health and I also have Gps data for the same year.

I would like to merge the two databases, because I want to use the latitude variable as an instrument, but I can't manage it.

The two databases have the cluster number and the region in common. I need your help, please.

I've been unable to progress in my work ever since because of this.
