I hope you find this message.

This explanation was very easy to understand, but I had a problem with merging IR and NR.

Also, I thought it would be better not to use iweight as much as possible, but should I use it here?

I would also like to use the 2022 data, but I am having trouble because the numbers don't match.

I will mainly use the IR data for the analysis, even for the 2022 data. Would it still be better to code "Women who have had a live birth or stillbirth in the 2 years preceding the survey" with NR data?

I would appreciate it if you could also tell me the points to note and the code to use when merging IR data with NR data.
