Good day,

I am working with the 2018 DHS data set for Nigeria. Specifically, I am working on the uptake of modern contraceptives within the urban population. However, I noticed that my sample size for women in urban areas is different from yours. For example, you had 11,790 married urban women and 909 sexually active unmarried women. However, the figures I have are different. I am using the IR file. I am using the SPSS software. Please advise.

Thank you,
Omotayo.
