Following is a response from DHS staff member, Tom Pullum:

The Senegal Continuous Survey is difficult to work with and is under-analyzed, by DHS staff as well as other users, because there are so many different files with seemingly random names.

For the recode files such as the KR file, it helps to have a list that identifies the year (v007) that goes with each filename. Some files have been issued that span two years, with separate files for each year separately.

I'm afraid I don't quite understand your issue. Can you re-state it? Is there a file that you believe should exist but you can't find it?
