I use logistic victim v012 and it gives me 8160 observations. (did not extract the cases by region)

I tried running it on SPSS but it provides me same results as STATA. I weighted the cases by d005 and select cases by v502 > 0. I did not filter out the cases outside the National Capital Region. The software still uses a total of 8160 observations. The classification table produces no weighted observation.

So what software should I use to run logistic regression for weighted data?
