

---

Subject: Re: Couple File

Posted by bsayer on Fri, 12 Jul 2013 21:31:37 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

A strictly correct statistical answer is the household weight, as it does not have the non-response adjustments that the male and female weights have. These adjustments may account for differing non-response of each partner and may be sub-optimal.

However, the male weight is usually fine.

---