It is not really a matter of limiting the observations. If you want 5444 cases, then these are 5444 pregnancies, and that is a different unit of analysis than women (which is what you have in the IR file). Each woman can have multiple pregnancies that are 7 months or more, so you need to convert your file to a file of pregnancies. I'm not sure what you want to do with that file, though. Are there characteristics of each pregnancy that you want to use? What do you ultimately want to do with this file?
