Subject: Regarding the relation between individual recode and children's recode
Posted by AmsP on Tue, 05 Apr 2016 14:23:42 GMT

Hello,

I have a question about the relation between individual recode data and children's recode data.

I know that the datasets of individual recode (IR) have information of women, and datasets of children's recode (KR) have information of mothers.

So do individual recode datasets (IR) already contain all mothers that are recoded in children's recode datasets (KR) of the same survey round?

Put it differently, if I am only interested in educational variables on all women (regardless of mother or not), do I just need to use only individual recode data (IR), but not children's recode data (KR) or birth recode data (BR)?

Thank you very much!