I'm working on the contraceptive calendar of the data from South Africa and one of the answer from the calendar is "I" and I don't know what it means.
It cannot be a mistake and be a 1 because 1 is sterilization and some women have pregnancies after the 1, it cannot be for implant or injectables because they are numbers 4 and 5. It might be a specific code for the country but the explanation is nowhere to be found.
(I am working on the data with R and Stata)

Following is a response from DHS Research & Data Analysis Director, Kerry MacQuarrie:

In the 2016 South Africa DHS, the vcal_1 code "I" = INJECTABLES - 2 MONTH NUR-ISTERATE, which is differentiated from 3 = the usual 3 month Depo.
