Is there a timeframe for when the new Timor-Leste data is expected?

The most recent available data is from 2016. I understand that COVID-19 will have delayed things, but I am keen to incorporate newer data in my work if possible.

Following is a response from DHS staff member, Tom Pullum:

At one time a DHS survey was planned for Timor-Leste in 2022. However, that was postponed indefinitely because a census was also planned for 2022 and it would require all local staff. That census was completed successfully but planning for the next DHS survey has not resumed.
