

---

Subject: Making DHS data available in publication for replication

Posted by larodri on Wed, 13 Feb 2019 17:28:13 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi,

I have used DHS data (alongside others) in a recent work that I am intending to submit to an Elsevier journal for publication. The journal asks the data used in the paper to be made available for replication, or to state whether this is not possible. What is DHS's policy in this regard?

Would it be fine to make the processed DHS data (not the raw files) available with my paper (this would also include data that has been merged from other sources into DHS) or should I instead say that DHS available needs to be accessed directly through you?

Thank you.

This is an example of the data policy of Elsevier

<https://www.journals.elsevier.com/journal-of-development-economics/policies/mandatory-replication-policy-devec>

---